Frank Farrell's Andrew Mack Graduates From Maiden Class, Also Latheron —Paul Clifford Most Heavily Played Winner-Steeplechase for Imperialist.

WASHINGTON, March 29 .- The track was faster at Bennings to-day and public form was not an idle dream. In fact, it was the easiest kind of picking for the talent, and six favorites rolled home. But at that there rolls of the wary layers, for the winners' prices were so short that any of the big bettors who could afford to give the odds put their checks down. The attendance was much larger than yesterday and the weather was delightful. There was evidence, too, of improved condition on the part of many of pared on the Eastern tracks, so that when the day's sport was at an end the trainers were confident that the good times are not

Not a stake race was down for decision, but the sport was interesting just the same, and there was a surfeit of enthusiasm all the afternoon. Frank Farrell's friends had been advised to make two bets, one on Mimon to tun second in the first event and another on Andrew Mack to win the fourth race. No

stylesd to make two bets, one on Minon to run second in the first event and another on better advice was handed out during the after boon, for in each instance the trick came true as steel. Andrew Mack, who was not overinduleed as a two-year-old, started in a race for maiden three-year-old, started in a race for maiden three-year-old, started in a race for maiden three-year-old, at six furiongs. The colt looked to be ig a soft spot and, with Wille Shaw up, he ruled favorite at 4 to 5. Cay. Tide and John F. Ahearn were also backed, but to no purpose, for Andrew Mack spreadesgled the others as no look like a lot of wooden horses as he romped past the judges with six lengths over Tide, who was second all the way and beat Brotherhood, as a look of the street of the second main and the second main and point from the opening quotation. Minon, poening at fours, went back to 9 to 1, with at the last at seventh pole with the street of the second main or need away is front until she led Paul Clifford into the stretch by two lengths. At that period it did not was a bit short, began to stop and the favorite, going away, won by a length and a half, she way way, won by a length and a half, and the conditions that prevaled line, while the two-year-olds the second race, at half a mile, and the Buckles, did fired choice, to the head of the second race, at half a mile, and the social policy with the second race, at half a mile, and the length of the place by a length and a half, she gotter to the second race, at half a mile, and the length of the second race, at half a mile, and the social showed her heals to the force of the place three for the second race, at half a mile, and the social showed her heals to the force of the second race, at half a mile, and the length of the place three for the second race, at half a mile, and the social showed her heals to the force of the second race, at half a mile, and the length of the second race, at half a mile, and the second race, at half a mile, and the length and a half, she gotter th

A steeplechase wound up the card. Imperialist was the hottest kind of a favorite at 6 to 5. The whole field ran in a compact bunch for the first mile, after which Imperialist drew away as he pleased and came home in a canter, beating Trinity Bell, second choice, by fifteen lengths. Provost, 20 to 1, was a close third. Strike-a-Light, ridden by Mr. Taylor of Baltimore, was pulled up with a broken leg.

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK. Busy Day at Gravesend-McChesney Gets

His First Breather. The weather was so favorable for training methods yesterday that nearly all of the horses quartered at Gravesend track were out for business.* The track was in better condition than at any previous time this year and the thoroughbreds in some instances were sent over it at a good clip. The event of the day was the appearances of E. E. Smathers's horses, including McChes-ney. Trainer Frank Taylor had been waiting for just such an opportunity and when "Big Mac" came out of his stall the railbirds and sharps were on the alert. With a stable boy up McChesney went twice around the track at an easy gallop, after which he got his first breather of the season over a stretch of three furlongs which he covered in 0:40, fighting for his head all the way. When he came back to the stable the great horse was in shape to do the trick over again but Taylor decided that he would have to take it easy for the rest of the day. Stevedore and Witchcraft, from the same stable, were timed over similiar distance in 0:41 2-5 and 0:44, respectively. It is apparent that McChesney will be ready for a race during the Jamaica meeting, although it may be possible that he will be reserved for the Metropolitan Haadi-Cap.

The Keene horses that have been leased to Mattie Corbett were also conspicuous. Jack Odom, who will train them, was out early. Dalesman headed the bunch. Dalesman raced in England last year and looks came together in this event, the victory going to Auditor, the odds-on favorite, from the stable of Capt. S. S. Brown. Redman, third choice in the betting, owned by W. S. Price, was second, and Cognomen third. Redman took the lead at the start and held it until the

was second, and Cognomen third. Redman took the lead at the start and held it until the three-quarter pole, where Helgerson, on Auditor, moved his mount forward and overhauled the leader at the head of the stretch. Auditor's victory will attract considerable attention to him in the Derby, which will be run on April 4.

Monastic, a Derby candidate from the stable of S. C. Hildreth, outclassed his field and took the first race with ease. The distance, five furlongs, was too short to allow of this victory being considered in the Derby. George C. Bennett's Dan McKenna, a stable companion of Little Scout, the winner of the Montgomery Handicap yesterday, won the fourth race, at a mile from Fossil, by the shortest of necks.

J. W. Schorr's Duke of Connaught, fourth choice in the betting, captured the first steeple-chase of the meeting. Balzac, J. C. Ferris Jr.'s bay gelding, ran away a mile and took several hurdles before the start. Sam Bolen Whips Ed Smith in Fast Fight.

Sam Bolen, the veteran colored feather-weight of this city, who has been fighting nearly a dozen years, added another fight to his long list by whipping Ed Smith of Baltimore in a fast six-round bout at Chester, Pa., on Monday night. Bolen had his man sized up in the first round, and easily got the sized up in the first round, and easily got the verdict at the end. The only thing in favor of Smith is that he can take a sound thrashing. Bolen administered this in fine style. In the second round Bolen swung with the right and put Smith down with a smash on the iaw. Smith got up and sailed into Bolen. With a wild swing on the ear he knocked Sam to the floor and had the latter almost to the bad when the gong sounded.

In the succeeding rounds Bolen made Smith look like a novice with straight lefts and right uppercuts. Smith dropped often to avoid punishment, and was hissed by the crowd. In the final round Smith was nearly finished. A crack on the mouth with the right, followed by a left smash in the stomach sent him reeling to the ropes. Just as Bolen was about to follow up his advantage the round ended. It was a flerce fight throughout and one of the best witnessed in Chester in years.

BASEBALL TEAMS IN THE SOUTH

NEW YORK NATIONALS WIN AN EASY GAME.

Pitcher Blackburn Holds Visitors Down for Five Innings, Then Several Twirlers Receive Punishment-Americans Lim-

ber Up at New Orleans - Gossip. BIRMINGHAM, March 29.-The New York ationals showed their class in to day's exhibition game with the Icoal Southern League team. At the start they were up against unusually strong minor league pitching in the sterling efforts of twirler Blackburn, from the Texas league, but in the fifth inning they discovered Blackburn's style and enjoyed a little batting exercise with a base running merry goround properly thrown in.

It was necessary for other pitchers to succeed the Texan, but they all looked pretty much the same to the visitors. McGill's entrance proved a cue for a special pyrotechnical display, and, with the rockets still shooting safely, he was yanked out and Tritton placed upon the firing line. Tritton ton placed upon the firing line. Tritton soon capitulated in favor of Hopkins, who checked the tide, but the New Yorkers seemed weary of running the bases by that time.

Milligan pitched the first five innings for the National Leaguers, and after the first inning when the locals scored their two runs he was master of the situation. Wiltse followed Milligan and was particularly strong in fielding his position. in fielding his position.

The batting of the visitors was gilt edged.
Browne, Bresnahan, McGann, Mertes, Dahlen and Gilbert were in the game with their bats for keeps. The New Yorkers left for Little Rock to-night and will play exhibition games there to-morrow and Thursday. The score:

in the suit of Charles Dunn as assignee of the Norfolk Baseball Club against the National Exhibition abompany, otherwise known as the New Ork National Baseball Club, to recover 1000 for an alleged breach of contract.

Wyer John M. Ward appeared for the plaintiff.

The plaintiff alleges that the New York baseball club in 1900 agreed to pay the Norfolk club 2,000 for the release of Christy Mathewson, then the expert twirler for the Norfolk club. If the work of Mathewson was satisfactory, the New York club was to pay the $2,000. It is alleged that Mathewson was a great success as a pitcher for the New York club, but that at the end of the season he was released outright to the Cincinnatic club, who in turn the following day traded him back for Rusie. Then the New York club, refused to pay the $2,000. Mathewson is still a member of the New York team.

In opposing the motion to make the complaint more definite, Lawyer Ward said:

"Mathewson is the greatest pitcher in America. There is nothing the matter with the complaint only that the opposing counsel wants deley."

"John," said Justice Keogh, "I, think your

SPARSE SUPPLY OF ATHLETES. Committee Declares Only 140 Eligible for

All the Pennsylvania Teams. PHILADELPHIA, March 29 .- The biggest athletic surprise in years will be sprung when an official copy of the eligible candidates is handed to the University of Pennsylvania coaches to-morrow. Out of a possible 600 candidates only 140 have been declared eligible by the athletic committee. This means that the baseball nine, track team, cricket team, lacrosse team, crew and gun club will have lacrosse team, crew and gun club will have to divide this list of candidates.

The plans of all the coaches will have to be changed to a great extent. In former years almost 200 candidates reported for the more important teams. The crew and track teams will suffer the most Each of these needs a large list of men to select from. More names will be added to the list every day, but it is not likely to reach the 200 mark.

At the beginning of the athletic season the committee issued blanks which all candidates for athletic teams were requested to fill. A number of the undergraduates looked upon it as a joke, but they think it is anything but a joke now, many having been declared ineligible solely owing to failure to comply with this request.

Auto Club Approves Hill IIII.

Members of the Auotmobile Club of America at their regular weekly assembly last night had a formal discussion of the automobile bill now pending at Albany. President Winthrop E. Scarritt, who has been representing the club at the capital stated that he had been advised by telegraph that the Hill bill had passed the Senate yesterday forenoon and that it would probably be offered as a substitute for the Cocks bill which has now had its third reading in the Assembly.

The various points of the bill were explained by President Scarritt and after some discussion it was tactily agreed that the automobilists of the club should accept the bill as an improvement on the existing law and support it, as President Scarritt had pledged the club to do.

Full credit for the advantages gained by automobilists under this bill was given by President Scarritt to the New York State Automobile Association, of which the Automobile Club of America is a member. Members of the Auotmobile Club of America

By this failure to be ready on time Mr. Sampson forfeits the $600 posted with his entry and all chance of being on the team. This leaves but two individual candidates for the cup race team, but that does not mean that there will necessarily be only two cars in the race to represent America. The other two who have enlisted for the race are Peter Cooper Hewitt of New York and Louis P. Mooers of Cleveland. Mr. Mooers, as if foreseeing some mishap to some of the other cars, has been building three cars, and if they should prove satisfactory to the committee, one of them may be selected to take the place of Mr. Sampson's entry, or for that matter all three of Mooers's cars might be chosen to represent this country. The Automobile Club has entered three cars for the race and has not named them yet. It may select any three it chooses to send over or may decline to send any and forfeit its entrance fee.

The race committee of the Automobile Club will have a meeting at an early date in April to discuss the situation.
